

VALVE JARGON BOOTCAMP

On Tuesday, the first webinar of the new year was successfully completed. Christine Vogt, Milwaukee Valve's Customer & Field Support Services Supervisor, ran through a short review of many of the terms that are heard on a routine basis, which some in our industry may not quite understand the meaning.

If you missed the webinar, you can view it HERE, or pass it along to others within your organization. (Registration required.)

In addition, a glossary of relevant terms was created. You can download the glossary by clicking on the document below...
